Dear Sir/Madam:

I am a very small time investor, but I understand stock and options.

I am against this proposed plan of disallowing options in IRA.

Options if used right can substantially reduce the risks of stocks alone.

Please don't interfere in individual freedom to invest in their IRA's.

This policy is probably come up with some one who has least understanding of options.

Most stock positions can be synthesized with options, but with reduced risk.

I summary, I am against disallowing options in the iRA. Please leave things as is.

Thanks

Sam Baskar
